RIVERBEND PARK UPDATE

Here is another update regarding the status of closing Riverbend Park.

This week District staff had an opportunity to meet the team of Design Consultants beginning assessments of the damage at Riverbend Park. This process will take time and will involve multiple visits to the site. The good news is that the process has started and we are well on our way to beginning a vision of the restoring of Riverbend Park.

Current challenges we are facing with this endeavor is the ever changing river levels due to the Lake Oroville Spillway outflows. Once again the park has been covered in water up to the soccer fields engulfing the trails, beach area, boat launch, parking lot, soccer field #1 and the entire South area of the park including the dog park. Until DWR announces a final decrease in outflows due to spring run off we are unable to set hard timelines of when repairs can begin.

We have had alot of public interest regarding how volunteers can help. The best way to provide assistance at this time is by putting on your thinking caps and sending your ideas to us regarding redesign elements of the park. Do you have an idea that may overall affect the future flooding of the park or are there elements of the park that could be upgraded or added that were missing before? Then send us your ideas! We want to hear from you. You can submit these by email to victoria@frrpd.com or attend one of our upcoming Public Session Workshops regarding Riverbend Park. Updates will be posted on our website of these meetings as well as through email correspondence.
